

The Myths of Mary Magdalene Through Art

Monday, October 18th from 7- 9 pm

Location: FST Classroom 1

Kayleen Asbo is a faculty member of Sonoma State University, the San Francisco Conservatory of Music and Dominican University's LifeLong Learning Program. She has lectured on the intersection of the arts, spirituality, psychology and history at Oxford University, at Grace Cathedral, at the Veriditas pilgrimage at Chartres Cathedral in France and at graduate schools throughout the Bay Area.

This lecture is sponsored by the Women's Studies in Religion Program at GTU and is part of a class entitled the History of Women and Religious Leadership, (HSSP 2580) taught by Dr. Darleen Pryds